

Program Grants During FY07 (July 1, 2006 – June 30, 2007)

In FY07 IDEX made the following grants to our partners:

Africa:

Girl Child Network (GCN), Zimbabwe - $17,187

GCN was founded in 1998 as a club for girls facing problems such as forced early marriage, genital mutilation, virginity testing, rape, and limited economic options that force girls into prostitution. With over 156 clubs and more than 20,000 members, GCN projects now include education and scholarships, HIV/AIDS prevention, skills training, advocacy and peer counseling.

Hlomelikusasa: "Skills for the Future", South Africa - $13,000

Hlomelikusasa was founded in 1994 to support the rights and needs of rural women in KwaZulu-Natal and the Eastern Cape Provinces. Hlomelikusasa works in 17 different communities to provide education, small business training and build markets to create economic opportunities for women and disseminate information to women about their rights under the new South African constitution.

Positive Women's Network (PWN), South Africa - $13,000

In 1996, 60 black South African women formed the PWN to address three forms of oppression they identified, being a woman, being black, and being HIV positive. PWN combats stigma head on by encouraging HIV-positive women to 'come out', creating support groups for HIV-positive women to come together.

Asia:

Gramin Vigyan Vikas Samiti (GRAVIS), Rajasthan, India - $22,210

GRAVIS promotes self-reliance to improve the social, economic and political opportunities of poor desert communities in Rajasthan, India. GRAVIS programs include education, health, women's empowerment and income generation, micro-credit, water resource development, agriculture, forestry and land development, and campaigning for the labor rights of mineworkers.

Sahyog Sansthan, Rajasthan, India - $13,000

Sahyog Sansthan works in over 85 villages to achieve long-term and sustainable improvement in the lives of the rural poor by promoting self-help saving and credit groups, improving management of natural resources and agricultural production, and fostering greater collaboration and linkages between government agencies and community groups.

Social Advancement Through Unity (SATU), Bangladesh - $13,000

SATU promotes women's social and economic empowerment in poor and marginalized communities through training, education and micro-credit lending. SATU's programs include non-formal education for children, food security, nutritional improvement, prevention and elimination of child labor, and agricultural development. SATU reaches over 22,000 women in 400 villages.

Women Awareness Center (WACN), Nepal - $10,000

WACN's believes that, if given the opportunity, women can become confident and competent leaders overcoming the myriad of obstacles they face in their daily lives. WACN's programs reach four districts of Nepal and include integrated community-based development, informal savings, credit groups and cooperatives for women, and sustainable agriculture.

Women's Empowerment and Leadership Development (Manavi), Bihar, India - $15,500

Manavi is a grassroots organization that focuses on reducing poverty and promoting women's self-sufficiency. Manavi works with over 2,000 women in 40 villages on issues such as women's empowerment, microcredit, skills training and education. In addition, Manavi is pioneering work in the areas of sustainable agriculture, flood preparedness and management.

Latin America:

K'inál Antsetik, Chiapas, Mexico - $16,000

Meaning "Land of Women", K'inál Antsetik promotes gender equity, social justice democracy and political and economic autonomy in Chiapas, Mexico. K'inál supports indigenous women's collectives and cooperatives, promotes community-led education, provides training in health and women's empowerment and promotes the development of a strong civil society.

Social and Economic Development for Indigenous Mexicans (DESMI), Chiapas, Mexico - $27,000

DESMI promotes economic development programs within indigenous communities in Chiapas, Mexico. DESMI provides credit and technical assistance to community groups working on sustainable agriculture, livestock and crafts projects. DESMI promotes sustainable agriculture, fair trade, gender equity, culturally appropriate education and citizen participation.

Women's Association for the Development of Sacatepéquez (AFEDES), Guatemala - $43,000

AFEDES is comprised of 31 women's groups with nearly 700 members. It promotes political participation and social empowerment of indigenous women. AFEDES provides groups of women with small loans and training for agriculture, livestock and weaving projects, and supports the leaders of the future by offering credit to families for school fees and uniforms for girl children.

Association for the Promotion of Health and Socio-Economic Development (APROSADSE), Guatemala - $18,000

APROSADSE works in the remote rural villages of San Martín Jilotepeque, Chimaltenango focusing on economic development. APROSADSE's agricultural promoters provide technical on how best to care for their chickens and improve crop yields. The association also offers microcredit to individuals and groups for sustainable agriculture, animal husbandry and small business projects.

Institute for Overcoming Urban Poverty (ISMU), Guatemala - $53,864

ISMU is a network of 17 grassroots organizations working to improve urban shantytowns, which lack necessities such as decent housing, sewage systems and potable water. ISMU provides income-generating projects, credit to build homes, educational scholarships, and training in labor rights, policy advocacy and financial administration. Its primary focus is to develop leadership skills amongst low-income women and youth.

In FY07 the following Catalyst Grants were made:

Association for Community Development (ACD), Bangladesh - $3,000

ACD was created 1989, in response to the growing needs and aspirations of marginalized women, youth and children. ACD also runs a well-equipped home shelter for survivors of violence, including those who have been sexually abused, exploited, trafficked and acid-burnt children.

Association of Farmers for the Development of Raquochel (APADER), Guatemala - $7,500

APADER works to improve living conditions within its community by creating and implementing programs in education, health, nutrition, production, the environment, credit services and leadership development.

ASHA, Nepal - $5,000

An NGO established in 1998, ASHA/Nepal is comprised of Nepalese professionals working to improve the health, livelihood, education and socioeconomic status of children and the community.

Council of Indigenous Medical Practitioners and Midwives for Community Health (COMPTICH), Mexico - $3,000

COMPTICH promotes a participatory and sustainable model of development based on respect for indigenous culture and values. The 17 COMPTICH member organizations work together to protect, maintain and develop holistic and culturally appropriate systems of sustenance and health promotion based on the values of solidarity, cooperation and respect for the environment.

Educación por la Paz (Education for Peace) EduPaz, Mexico - $3,000

EduPaz was founded in 1998 in Comitán, Chiapas to provide health services and initiating economic development to help Guatemalan refugees. Within the last few years, it has expanded, now working with indigenous communities throughout Mexico, to confront the conditions that cause marginalization and promote alternative development strategies.

Enlace Civil (Community Links), Mexico - $3,000

Enlace Civil was founded in 1995 to act as a liaison between community groups affiliated with Zapatista movement and civil society organizations interested in supporting the movement. The organization provides advisors to each of the Zapatista regional councils, helping them set up Internet communication and learn to write grant proposals.

Formación y Capacitación (Training and Capacity-Building) FOCA, Mexico - $3,000

FOCA seeks equity between men and women through supporting the self-organization of indigenous communities to seek a better quality of life. They build the leadership of women as well as raise the consciousness of men about the need for gender equity.

Organization for Women's Development in Bangladesh (OWDEB), Bangladesh - $3,000

OWDEB was founded in 1994 by a group of like-minded people, which included a teacher, ex-student politicians, an artist, a writer and others who wanted to work with marginalized people, such as women and children. OWDEB's programs are focused on women's empowerment and women's rights.